

Rose Bonica is a live electronic act, music producer and visual artist based in Cape Town, South Africa.

Rose's production style is complex, self taught and unpredictable. The layering of her sounds can feel like anything from astral projection, a warm sunny picnic with friends on the side of a lake to a hard core torture technique. Unexpected sounds illustrate the authenticity of Rose's private production process that happens in her studio overlooking the ocean in the small coastal town of Hout Bay in South Africa where she has lived her whole life. Her work is a reflection of her perspective on everything from love and pain to the joys of domestic cats or the experience of navigating a world in crisis.

Rose recently released her debut album 'Tears for the Tea Maker' on her own label Roses Are Red. It received support from artists and dis like Machine Woman, Jamz Supernova and Dixon. Her album was also featured on Bandcamp's Best Electronic Albums of 2020 and Mail & Guardians Best Albums of 2020 lists.

She has her first international release coming out in January 2021 on Jamz Supernova's label Future Bounce and recently performed live for Nyege Nyege's online festival.
