i-vye

Emerged out of a concentrated joint reflection on decolonial politics, she aims to reframe the position of clubbing by interweaving genres and text. i-vye is an alias consisting of the names I, V, Y & E, which are the names of four sisters growing up displaced in several colonial meanings. The music itself is a research dedicated to them. Zurich based artist and researcher Yara Dulac Gisler formerly worked in the field of experimental theater or performance, where she found to combine cultural studies with practice for the first time. Today she works mainly in spaces where thoughts can be processed transdisciplinary and reverberate in communication.
